VIVA LA REPUBLICA.

CREDIT RESTORED

Repudiation choked.

The Paraná Bonds are now law, having been sanctioned by both houses of Congress. All the efforts of the opposition could avail nothing; the Deputies saw the error of their former vote, and nobly resolved to give up a wrong position sooner than cast an indelible stigma on the Nation's credit. Some still persisted in their sentence, but the vote has been a splendid triumph for Buenos Ayres, for the Republic, and for the very Chamber of Deputies, who reversed the mandate of repudiation, and gave a majority in favor of the project of the Senate.

The numbers were—for the Bonds 16—

Against—15.

Congress—Deputies.

This Chamber met yesterday, at 2 p.m. On entering the house, the President found there was no quorum, there being only 24 members present, when Sr. Cantilo was sent for, and the number completed. Except Srs. Gutierrez and Alsina, all the other 3 Ayrean deputies were absent, but after a short time, Srs Garcia, J. C. and Pastor Obligado. Montes' decca and Quintana came in.

After a desultory discussion, it was voted whether the order of the day should be taken up.

Ayes 23, Noes 6.

The minute of the Senate, rejecting, in toto, the amendments introduced by the deputies, was then read—

D. Pastor Obligado moved to postpone the subject until a larger number of deputies should attend.

D. J. Obligado seconded the motion.

D. Ruiz Moreno opposed the motion, stating that there was a legal quorum, and that some deputies absented themselves purposely, on account of the Paraná Bonds, violating the Constitution, which forbids more than 3 days' vacation (confusion among the members).

Being put to the vote, whether the matter be postponed ? it resulted—Ayes 19, Noes 20.

D. A. Alsina reprobated the idea of consenting to the payment of a debt contracted for the support of tyranny, on the same day that the Senate rejected the claims of those who suffered in the crusade of Lavalle against Rosas.

Dr Montes decca inquired of the Minister of Finance what were the views of the New Government on the Paraná Bonds ?

Dr Sarsfield made no reply whatever.

D. P. Obligado thought the house had a right to open up fraudulent transactions, and he would vote so before.

Dr. Quintana said—"This bill is pressed on us under 3 arguments

1st. We have not the right to examine the Paraná Bonds. 2nd. We cannot possibly examine them. 3rd. If it is impolitic to examine them. The first point rests on the idea that public debts are like private ones, but this is a mistake, for a citizen may be dragged to prison for non-payment—a nation never.

The 2nd point cannot be resolved till we see the Archives of Paraná. The 3rd is untrue, for honesty seeks the light, and if this debt were "bona fide", we should not have to complain that the process of 76 articles, showing up the fraud, has been hidden in Paraná.

D. J. C. Obligado said—We are not bound to recognize the Paraná Debt, for we disavow the acts of the late Government.

D. R. Moreno asked to put the vote, but Sr. Cabral insisted on speaking.

The vote were then put, when the Deputies insist on their former amended project.

Ayes—19—Noes—16.

Argentine relations abroad.

Not many days ago we called attention to the growing favor with which this Republic is regarded in England and the rest of Europe. Every paper of our files by the last packet, speaks in glowing terms of Buenos Ayres; capitalists are confidently invited to seek golden returns for investments in River Plate Banks, Railways &c. and emigrants are directed to bend their steps to this new El Dorado. The consolidation of peace and increase of industry are no doubt the chief incentives to attract the enterprising preference of Englishmen and whole columns of our papers are copied as a truthful picture of the convalescent state of this country.

It is flattering to reflect that, while Europe is sending out powerful armaments to avenge the murders and robberies committed in Mexico, the Argentine Republic is receiving the great elements of national power from the same source. Men and money are freely handed by France to regenerate, the kingdom of Montezuma while men and money are as unsparingly shipped for the River Plate, by England, to build up another of these Hispano-American republics.

Already we are beginning that splendid march of progress which, for 30 years, rendered the United States the wonder, and envy of the Universe. Nor may we dread such a disastrous issue as we see in the North American, since the baneful cause—slavery—does not exist among us. The Argentine territory and its resources are so immense, the climate so varied and beautiful, the water power is so abundant, that we only require 3 or 4 millions of Irish immigrants, and good credit on the London Exchange, to convert our pampas into rich prairies and make Buenos Ayres the rival of Melbourne, and Queen of the Southern Hemisphere.

An idle dreamer attempted, lately, to prove that immigration would be the ruin of the republic, the newspapers sailing to assist vert the present order of things. If he could have prevailed on the United States, 30 years ago, to accept his theory, the model republic would be deprived of 10 millions Germans and 6 millions Irish citizens. Happily the Americans foresaw that these settlers would become the pillars of the State, and the sequel shows that the country of Washington, far from being denationalized by Irish or Germans, has found its bravest supporters in the sons of the Green Isle and of Fatherland.

Mr Wheelwright, whose bust is placed in every Chamber of Commerce of the Chilian and Peruvian republics, as a public benefactor, declares his intention to carry the Cordoba railway across the Andes: but he makes it an indispensable condition that Longitudinal be granted for emigration along the whole route. "For of what value," says he, "is the country without population." He relates, impartially, the difficulties incidental to such undertakings as the Chilian Peruvians, and Cordoba lines, but asserts confidently that both will be realised by London capitalists.

D. Estevan Rams, who has issued a large lottery on the Salado navigation project, is not disheartened, having recently secured a renewal of his concession, for which, he says, a high Brazilian firm have promised the necessary funds.

Mr. Curran, of Dublin, projects emigration on a vast scale to Buenos Ayres, and we expect Government will avail itself of the recent colonization law, by granting lands, in convenient sites, to Irish settlers.

The Cotton Association of Manchester promis s to spare no expense for the cultivation of this valuable staple throughout the republic, constituting the editors of the " Standard" their agents in B. Ayres.

The Bank and Railway are other convincing proofs of how favorably we are regarded in England. But not only in London and Paris is the name of Argentine rising in value; the press of Belgium speaks with encomium of the River Plate, and other countries, which have been hitherto ignorant of our very existence, rejoice with acclamation the verse of our national hymn—

Se levanta a la faz de la tierra,
Una nueva y gloriosa Nacion."

Provincial News.

A steamer attacked by the Indians

Colonel Davila robbed and taken prisoner.

If the exports of the provinces were only as numerous as the newspapers, we probably would have more money and less politics: not that we have any prejudice to journalism; but the plain fact is, that every day, if we consult the "Diario" of Rosario, not a single paper comes to us that is not choked up with official decrees and whatnot, but not a single syllable of local or commercial news, which, amongst foreigners, is the principal thing looked for.

From Cordoba, we learn that General Paunaro has written to General Peñaloza, relative to the recent Union invasions. Colonel Sandes was just on the point of marching to the frontier line, to keep a look-out in that quarter.

The far-famed; Llanas has taken Colonel Davila prisoner, at a place called Rosario Muerto, which is on the high road to Cordova. The Colonel was on his way back to Buenos Ayres, to give an account of his mission, as Commissioner to the National Government.

General Peñaloza has sent an order to Llanos, to liberate Davila forthwith, and return him the loose change which he was robbed of—10,000 dollars.

In Mendoza things are quiet enough. The inhabitants have ceased to rebuild the city with in two leagues of the site of the former one. The cotton-sowing question is beginning to be mooted, and many parties are awaiting seed to begin planting.

From Rosario we learn that an invasion of gauchos, in the direction of Pavon and Cañada Rica, is talked of. The news came from Fraile Muerto. Colonel Goyten, on hearing this, sent immediate orders to all his officers to be prepared.

It is difficult to ascertain, with any degree of certainty, what this invasion means. Nothing has been received on for the last 12 months, in this vicinity, to an enormous extent; but we do not think it partakes of a political character. Who the leader is has not yet transpired, but the probabilities are, that some rogue gauchos have clubbed together for the purpose of greater impunity, and are now preparing some indiscriminate "voltonda" on a grand scale.

Active men are wanted in the country parts at present, otherwise the estancieros will have to turn out and keep guard: the number of fellows prowling about, with no other occupation save robbing, is hardly credible.

The Mendoza correspondent of the Diario has brought that paper into trouble, and the Rosario public are promised one of those delightful speeches of trial by jury in South America, which beats the London "Punch" for originality.

From Corrientes we learn that the Minister Figueabal had resigned, and Gov. Pujato was present without a secretary.

Dr Fonseca is talked of as the new Minister. General Ramires has also resigned his post of Inspector of Arms, and the Government consider it unnecessary to appoint his successor, as all Correntes has determined to have done with arms for the present, and embraces agriculture. The religious festivals of the 24th inst has passed off with unusual heat, but the Correntine public want to know if they are still under a state of siege or not, as many persons can hardly enjoy their nights rest, owing to the unpleasant uncertainty which exists on this head.

The steamer Marquez de Olinda, in her trip to Cuyaba, was attacked by a band of Indians. One of the sailors was severely wounded by an arrow: several Indians were killed, but the captain put on steam, and left the savages in the rear.

We regret to remark the total absence of all commercial news. We cannot find out from any of the papers how many carts have arrived, or in fact anything to justify us in saying that trade is reviving or business going ahead.

Montevideo.

A new protest had been circulated, against the Government bearing the signatures of Messrs. Estrandias and Perez respecting the vexed ecclesiastical question.

The jury assembled to judge, in the Court of Carreras against "La Republica" has not yet given its decision.

The subscription list for the Exchange buildings was advancing very rapidly and the shares already taken amounted to six hundred and eighty five.

Ireland.

Dublin, August 22.—Lord Russel and family leave for London this morning by the Holyhead mail steamer. His Lordship returned yesterday to the Royal Marine Hotel, Bray, from a visit to the Duke of Leinster. It is stated that the sudden departure has been occasioned by urgent despatches relating to Italy, which require his immediate presence in London. He enjoyed a number of excursions to the beautiful Wicklow scenery during his sojourn at Bray.

The Tuscarora again arrived in Kingstown harbor on Thursday night, at 1.30 p.m., after having got in 100 tons of coals in the Belfast Lough. An official communication passed yesterday between the commander of Her Majesty's ship Ajax and the Captain of the Tuscarora, which was soon after followed by an order for her departure in 24 hours. Her commander, Captain Craven, has been admitted a member of the Royal Western Yacht Club of Ireland.

The convict Herdman was removed from Belfast to Dublin yesterday, on "view" to Spike Island. His son, a boy, took leave of the unfortunate man, and the parting was distressing to witness. His wife accompanied him in the steamer to Dublin.

The convict Burke is resigned to his fate. He has expressed a wish to dig his own grave. Had his wife lived he would have received by her a considerable share of a legacy of £7,000, with 5000. a year left to her family by a relative who died in Sidney in May last. No sympathy what ever appears to be felt for him by the people.

Mr Abraham Contes, agent over the Earl of Stradbroke's estates in the county of Waterford, and of the extensive property of Lord Clifton, in the county of Kilkenny, has been warned by the Government of his intended assassination

The Battle of Cedar Mountain—Details.

The New York Herald of the 13th says—

General Pope reports to General Halleck that Jackson's rebel force retreated under cover of Monday night, across the Rapidan River; that the rebel rear guard was crossing the river towards Orange Court House yesterday; and further, that the Union cavalry and artillery were in pursuit. It is plain from the result of the action that General Jackson's forces must have suffered severely. The prisoners report that their own troops were mowed down like grass, and that they were three times heavily reinforced. Over 20,000 of the rebels took part in the action, but only two divisions of General Bank's army were engaged. A telegram, dated Culpeper Court House, Virginia, evening of the 12th, says—The battle of Saturday, the 9th, is one of the most important of the war not merely on account of the desperate valour and unflattering discipline displayed by our troops, the obstinacy of the contest, and the heavy loss on both sides, but because of its important effect on the campaign of Virginia it makes a part. The campaign on the part of Jackson is an attempt to penetrate and recover the valley of the Shenandoah, whereas the rebel supplies of the enemy are drawn, and the no season of which was of a particular importance in the endeavour to hold Virginia as a part of the attempted Confederacy hardly to be estimated. At the same time the rebel leaders hoped by this movement to so threaten Washington and Maryland as to relieve Richmond and withdraw our armies to the line of the Potomac. To secure such objects as these, and knowing that the government was now evidently weaker and the rebellion stronger than could again occur in the war, the Richmond leaders sent the flower of the Southern infantry under their most popular and enterprising generals; a large body of cavalry under Major-General Stuart, and an abundance of artillery When Jackson had arrived with his forces as far as Louisa Court House and Gordonsville, and found the disposition of General Pope's troops such that not only his purpose to enter the valley was foiled, but his own direct communications with Richmond were interrupted, he called for further reinforcements, and with those which were free by furnished attempted to stem General Pope's further advance upon that railroad, the destruction or even the permanently threatening of which must bar from Richmond all hope of the material or political control of Central Virginia. Jackson attempted to do it first upon Morrison Court House and Sperryville to detain our force at the latter point while at the same time he threw the mass of his forces, numbering 35,000 men, by way of Orange Court House, upon us at Culpeper, expecting to find only a portion of our forces there which he could overwhelm, and then march on Sperryville from Culpeper, and crush the many corps of Sigel. His plan so were completely foiled by the rapid concentration of our forces at Culpeper, and their advance to meet him at Cedar Run. The cold and determined temper of Banks accepted the proffered battle as soon as offered and the battle of Saturday afternoon was fought between the advance of Jackson, under him-self and Ewell. After endeavouring in vain to rout and drive Banks's corps, Jackson found himself compelled, at night, by the rapid movement in front of him, to fall back to a strong defensive position in Cedar Mountain, and finding his line of retreat growing insecure, on the succeeding night he retreated altogether, retiring beyond Robertson's River, and again beyond the Rapidan. Pursued, however, Jackson again foiled his forces to abandon his operations, and his prestige is seriously impaired He will be rapidly foiled. If

LOCAL EVENTS.

The Last Rose of Summer, Miss Acton will sing this beautiful ballad to night. We presume her's will be the only bouquet bestowed, & understand she will sing Kathleen Mavourneen, "it may be for years and it may be for ever" before we hear this enchanting song again.

Dr Conyngham's Jubilee.—We have much pleasure in announcing the arrival of Dr V. Conyngham, son of Dr Conyngham of this city, after an absence of nearly five years. He passed his final examination, and obtained his degree of M D, on the first of August last, at the University of Pennsylvania—He got the 3rd mark of distinction for his dissertation, amongst 109 Graduates These are sufficient titles to ensure our talented young countryman an extensive practise in this city, and a high rank among his professional brethren

General Rivas.—We hear it is the intention of Government to address it-self to Congress, requesting the commission of General for Colonel Rivas.

National Government.—All the Ministers including Dr Velez Sarsfield have already taken possession of their respective posts, and as their offices are not prepared yet, they will do business at their private residences.

Provincial Ministry. We hear that the most probable candidates for these posts are Messrs Luis Dominguez and Dr Acosta.

It is very likely that the province of Buenos Ayres unlike the rest of the Republic, will require a Finance Minister as the provisionial dues are considerable, not under twenty millions per annum.

The Buffer, have suddenly disappeared from public life, for we see no advertizement of any performance for many days past.

We do not know what may be the cause of this but we suppose it will proceed from the exigency of the contract.

The New Cuip. Is expected about the middle of November. Our reports from the country state that only a few establishments have commenced shearing, chiefly for fine flocks kept in galpones.

We hear that as ckoloth is very scarce and that several barraqueros are afraid they will not have sufficient to bale the wool elip, for this year unless imports increase the present low stock. Since the arrival of the British mail it has risen over one dollar per yard."

New York, August 29th.

WOOL.—An active demand set in for foreign descriptions, immediately subsequent to our last weekly review at full prices, but the market at the close is quiet, but firm for all kinds. Domestic fleeces are coming forward more freely from the interior of the State and the West, but most of the supplies are going into store, in anticipation of much higher rates—indeed some parties in the trade think that wools will reach 75c. per lb., and their expectations may be realized probably. Most, if not all of the new clip, has now changed hands, and prices have rapidly advanced since the opening of the season, through unforeseen and eventful causes. At the opening of the Southern ports several months since, it was thought that cotton would be shipped here in large quantities, but the lapse of time has proved otherwise, the, inhabitants of the rebellious States of the South having preferred to apply the torch to it, and hence we have a Cotton famine, and prices are therefore higher than ever known before. The result is that manufacturers must supply their wants in a great measure, with Wool, and prices have risen rapidly in sympathy with Cotton, and influenced by the great advance in exchange recently. The great number of men now in the army and navy has lessened the demand for Cotton and increased it for Woolen fabrics. The Woolen producers foresaw this, and the easy state of the Money market, some three months since, enabled them to obtain considerable funds from the banks to purchase the raw material, which they did liberally at very full prices. T ose who sold then did well, but those who held on to it, did well will possibly do better. There is one peculiar circumstance connected with the market this season, and that is, that it is useless to sort or classify Wools. Coarse Wools bring several cents per lb. more than the finest Saxony, and this description is scarce and wanted. California is quick of sale, and the supply of Pulled is limited and lundequate to the wants of the trade. The market is quite buoyant for all descriptions, yet prices of native Fleece are 3o. arr. 5o. lower, than than in Boston or Philadelphia. The sales are 600,0o0 lbs. Native fleece, fine and coarse, and tiere verse, at 51c, arr. 28c.; 30,000 lbs. Superfine and Extra pulled at 48c. to 50c., the latter rate for Extra Country; 200 bales Cordova at 35c.; 350 do. Mediterranean at 32c. to 40c.; 350 do Otne Chilian at 30c. arr. 32c.; 200 do. unwashed Cio de at 17c. arr. 20c.; 150 do., 200 do unwashed Morocco, 100 do East India, and 200 do. Buenos Ayres on terms not disclosed, but known to be at very full rates.

Liverpool, 8th September.

In River Plate wools, considerable transactions have been effected, the demand being principally for exportation to the States and for speculation. We call attention to the sales during the last four weeks to Liverpool, Havre and Antwerp at 7000 bales. The demand for America has taken from the 1st June, 4000 bales, chiefly unwashed mestiza at 7 1/2 to 9d. European consumers have paid more or less the same price for Buenos Aires and 10 1/2 for light from Monte Video. Cordova wools have been in great request to arrive at from 10 3/4 to 11 1/2d and 300 bales just arrived have been resold at 11 7/8d. For merino and mestiza washed, but few sales have been effected with an improvement of 1d per pound.

EDITION FRANCAISE.

Octobre 17—1862.

ETRANGE—.

Turin, 31 août.

La frégate à vapeur Duca-di-Genova, ayant Garibaldi à bord, est attendue en soli à la Spezzia.

Les prisonniers d'Aspromonte qui suivent la même direction sur d'autres bâtiments, seront enfermés aussi dans la forteresse.

Les blessures de Garibaldi sont moins graves qu'on ne l'avait annoncé hier.

Milan.

On écrit de Venise qu'on concentre des troupes à Mantoue pour envahir les duchés en cas d'événements.

Milan est tranquille.

Marseille.

Les lettres particulières de Italie signalent une agitation croissante.

La nouvelle de la défaite de Garibaldi a provoqué des démonstrations partout.

Des troupes ont été dirigées sur Livourne, où l'on redoute des événements.

Francfort.

Les bruits de la retraite du ministre de lamarine d'Autriche et de son remplacement par le gouverneur de Trieste, baron de Burger, prennent de la consistance.

Il s'agirait dans ce cas d'une nouvelle réorganisation du département de la marine, que l'on diviserait en deux sections, marine militaire et marine commerciale.

On sait que M. de Burger appartient au parti Schmerling.

De 1er. septembre.

L'assurance recemment donnée par M. Delbruck, dans la séance de la commission des finances de Berlin sur l'adhésion de Francfort au traité de commerce avec la France, est hasardée. Notre gouvernement fait dépendre cette adhésion de celle des autres Etats de l'union douanière.

On annonce de Vienne que la nomination de M. de Burger au ministères de la marine peut être considérée comme un fait accompli.

Ce-ci-ve. 31 août 1862

On annonce de Varsovie deux importantes arrestations qui ont été faites dans les personnes de Rodowicz et Chimicliinski qui seraient les chefs du complot Jaroszinki. Le premier aurait été arrêté à Kiew et il est dans la citadelle de Varsovie.

Turin 31 août.

Il se confirme que le procès de Garibaldi et de ses complices aura lieu immédiatement. On ne sait pas encore devant quel tribunal passera l'ex-dictateur.

Albert Mario et miss White ont été arrêtés à Milan.

Le bruit court que les députés Nicotera et Micoli sont parmi les prisonniers.

Les démissions de Farinelli italienne qui se sont trouvés parmi les prisonniers ont été refusées.

Le gouvernement français a complimenté par le télégraphe, le cabinet de Turin sur l'dévénement d'Aspromonte.

La manifestation d'hier soir, à Milan a été provoquée par le faux bruit de la mort de Garibaldi. Les masses se sont dirigées vers la maison du consul de France, mais ils ont rencontré un escadron de cavalerie que leur a barré le passage. Les sommations étant restées inutiles, l'attroupement a été dispersé par la force. Il y a eu un mort et quelques blessés.

Dans la manifestation qui a eu lieu à Milan hier soir, il y a eu un mort et plusieurs blessé.

Deux bandes de garibaldiens, qui avaient réussi à s'échapper lors de la prise de Caprère et du combat d'Aspromonte, sont parvenues par les troupes royales.

Le chef de ces bandes est Missori.

Garibaldi a été embarqué hier à Scyllo, à bord de la frégate la Duc de Genes, qui a fait voile pour la Spezzia.

Une proclamation de la municipalité de Milan invite les citoyens à être unis et à ne rester autour du drapeau de nat.

Aujourd'hui Milan est tranquille. Par précaution, la garde nationale est sous les armes et des patrouilles de troupes parcourent la ville.

Hier soir une démonstration a eu lieu à Brescia; elle a été dissoute sans conflit.

A Côme, il a fallu employer la force contre les agitateurs.

Milan 1er. septembre.

Des nouvelles démonstrations ont encore eu lieu hier soir; mais elles étaient moins bruyantes que celles de la veille. L'intervention de la garde nationale et de quelques patrouilles de troupes régulières a réussi à maintenir l'ordre; il n'y a eu qu'un seul blessé.

Rome, 27 août.

M. de Lavalette a eu hier une nouvelle audience du Pie IX.

On assure que Sa Sainteté a chargé l'ambassadeur français de remercier de sa part l'empereur de la récente note publiée par le Moniteur.

Les communications avec Naples sont presque interrompues.

Rome est tranquille.

du 31

Hier, au Quirinal, a été faite la demande officielle de main de la princesse Maria Annunziata, sœur du roi François II de Bourbon, pour l'archiduc Charles-Louis, frère de l'empereur d'Autriche.

Le pape, qui avait été légèrement indisposé, est parfaitement rétabli.

Alexandrie, 31 août.

La Syrie est tranquille. Les Druses paraissent Pimport. Le Hauran est agité. Du combat.

Berlin, 27 août, soir.

On parle d'un Memorandum austro-prussien à Copenhague sur le conflit dano-allemand. Chacun des deux gouvernements y ajournerait une note séparée constatant son point de vue particulier.

Ces démarches seraient provoquées par la détermination prise, dit on, par le cabinet danois, de régler par de décret royal les rapports du Holstein avec le reste de la monarchie.

—Malgré les assertions contraires, le gouvernement prussien ne pas répondu jusqu'à ce jour aux notes de la Bavière, de Wurtemberg et de Hanovre sur la question de Zollverein.

Francfort, do

Le refroidissement qui s'est produit entre le roi de Prusse et le duc de Saxe-Cobourg, à l'occasion des discours pron ce a par ce dernier à la fête nationale de Francfort, prend les proportions d'un dissentiment. Le bruit court que le duc Ernest vient de donner sa démission de colonel dans l'armée prussienne.

Cracovie,

On apprend de source certaine que le grand-duc Constantin insiste auprès de l'empereur pour être relevé de ses fonctions en Pologne.

Son Altesse Impériale quitterait très prochainement Varsovie pour faire un voyage en Europe.

Berne,

A la suite d'un rapport émanant du département de la justice, et après avoir pris Paris de plusieurs jurisconsultes éminents, le conseil fédéral vient de confier aux professeurs Munzinger, de Berne, et au président Curtin, de Delsberg, le soin d'élaborer un Code de commerce.

Ragusc.

Les populations de Cuttaro Piva, Drobj kiet Schoumzi sétant soulevées, ont attaqué Kolnsein, où elles ont qué le maudir et un grand nombre de Turcs.

Le 23, une sanglante bataille a livrée du côté de Rjeka. Elle a duré dix heures. Les Turcs ont subi des pertes énormes. Ils ont passé la rivière de Rjeka.

Le 26 ils se sont avancés vers Uscliin et Dobrskowclo.

Les Montenégrins commandés par Mirko suivent leurs mouvements.

Mui Sres. mios;

Gracia á las finas atenciones que se han dignado dispensarme cuantas veces he pasado por su oficina para obtener semillas y datos sobre el importante cultivo del algodon, hoy tengo el placer de remitirlo una pequeña muestra de algodon, recogido en el Diamante, pueblo de la Provincia de Entre Rios situado sobre la margen izquierda del Rio Paraná. Mucho desearia Sres. que vds. me dignen contestenlores del progreso de estos pueblos, q. sirvieseu remitirla á Inglaterra para que juzguen de su calidad, segun que puedan hacerse grandes plantaciones de este artículo en una estensa costa de 50-6 60 leguas que baña el gran Rio Paraná navegable por buques de 15 pies de calado. La 60-6 60 leguas de que hago referencia son las que concepto hay desde el Diamante hasta la Paz último pueblo de Entre Rios en el Rio Paraná cerca de la frontera de Corrientes. No tengo las pretenciones de reconocer se o al algodon como el mejor del mundo; pero si creo que será reputado como muy regular, y que cultivado con esmero obtendrá mejora en su calidad.

He escrito á algunos amigos en Inglaterra en el Litoral para cuesti gar datos mas estensos sobre este ramo—el algodon.—y segun vaya obteniéndolos, iré dando á vds. los que algun interes, tendrá mucho gusto en participárselos.

The South Down
SUPERIOR WASHED

A sure cure for the Scab in Sheep

As Sheep-Farmer should be without it.

The valuable preparation which is now used so nearly all the wool growers of this country is a concentrated mixture, free pound of which is equal to ten pounds of tobacco, reducing in this compound as well the properties of the raw material. The only labor required to render the wash ready for use, is to add the 1 pound to the quantity of cold water, needed for the number of sheep to be cured.

The most satisfactory testimonials of its perfect safety, simplicity and utility, from the principal Estancieros of this country may be had on application to the undersigned. Full directions for use are given on each tin.
